News Release: Visible® delivers Health Informatics to Albany Medical Center.

BOSTON, MA – December 1, 2014 – Visible Systems Corporation in conjunction with Siemens Healthcare will provide Albany Medical Center with an interactive, easy to navigate model of its Healthcare Intelligence/Data Warehouse. The interactive model will help Albany Medical users to quickly find information in its Healthcare Intelligence/Data Warehouse and also provide a platform to incrementally build out an enterprise-wide knowledge management framework. Users are able to track every object that is stored in the Healthcare Intelligence/Data Warehouse, including; where information is coming from, where it is going, where it is used, what it is associated with, etc. Furthermore, non-technical users are able to generate and display business “views” along with business rules from the data model thereby enhancing their understanding of the models to better identify and interpret the informatics around patient care.

“The nature of our Visible Analyst product is that it allows users to navigate the information that exists in the product’s repository so one may rapidly find any piece of data, however small, in seconds, and determine exactly where the trail of data relationships ends.” said Michael Cesino, President & CEO. “This capability will enable Albany Medical to greatly improve access to metadata necessary to effectively mine data in order to meet the needs of their patients. Additionally, improved metadata access is also one of the keys to addressing compliance issues relative to many of the new healthcare reform initiatives.” added Cesino.
